Natural & Synthetic Rubber Blend

A combination of natural and synthetic rubbers offers anti-abrasive properties, flexibility, and performance in all weather conditions.

Iron Core Technology

Drop-forged steel cores, heat treated for toughness, provide optimal strength and durability.

Guiding Ear Interlock

Prevents misalignment between metal bars, reducing the need for thicker carcass materials and increasing lateral stability.

Fluid Sampling

Manage your operating costs more effectively with 15% off fluid sampling.

What is Sampling? Fluids are extracted for laboratory testing and analysis. Tests assess chemical and physical properties by screening for contaminants such as metals and additives.

Why Sample? Indicates machine health through analysis of wear and contaminants. Sampling can detect excessive wear areas and help identify issues before they lead to costly failures.
